124 MEMBERS HEAR POLICE CHIEF STROH AT NOVEMBER ELEMENTARY P.T.A. MEET

One hundred and twenty-four members attended the November meeting of Torrance Elementary P.T.A. in the school auditorium when Torrance City Chief of Police John H. Stroh spoke on "Juvenile Protection."

He expressed the belief that delinquency is no worse today than it was 15 or 20 years ago, but is a greater problem due to increased population of the area.

Stroh appealed to parents to take care of their own children to help eliminate the juvenile delinquency problem. The need for planned play areas was pointed out in a discussion following his talk.

At the business meeting presided over by Mrs. Elmer Moon, $10 was voted to the American Legion Auxiliary to be applied toward the purchase of an autodimeter for use in Torrance City schools.

Ways and Means Chairman Mrs. Verne Barlow reported that the recent paper drive netted $174, and expressed her appreciation for the work of her committee members.

Mrs. Kenneth Sexton presented plans of the parent education committee for the coming year. Mrs. Luke Nichols provided entertainment by singing "My Hero" from "The Chocolate Soldier," and "All My Love." She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Jean Graves and they led a community sing which followed.

Refreshments were served by kindergarten room mothers. Mrs. Dick Plank, room mother chairman, and Mrs. Moon presided at the tea table, which was decorated with autumn leaves complementing a centerpiece of gold and russet chrysanthemums, according to Mrs. R. W. Kemp, publicity chairman.

A puppet show, "Hansel and Gretel," was presented Wednesday afternoon in the school auditorium and sponsored by the P.T.A. All students who had brought their quota of paper to the recent drive were admitted free as a prize. Other students paid 12 cents to see the show.

Miss Jean Graves' sixth grade class won the use of the school radio this month for having the highest parental attendance at the November P.T.A. meeting, Mrs. Kemp also announced.
